

WTTW is Our Source for ... Learning and Laughing

Public broadcasting has something for everyone. WTTW's mission is to provide accessible programming – relevant and distinctive, enriching and engaging – for diverse audiences in Chicago and its communities, and around the country.

“ Living in Chicago with my two children and husband, I rely on WTTW to help me inspire my kids to love learning. Zachary can't get enough of Arthur and Caillou. And his younger brother Ben absolutely adores Thomas & Friends and my old favorite, Sesame Street. We know that these beloved characters and the rest of the programming we find each and every day throughout the year on Channel 11 is unmatched in the cluttered world of commercial television. We are so grateful that it brings something back to our lives each time we tune in. ”

– Karen Plumley, Chicago

What is WTTW YOUR SOURCE for?
Let us know at wttw.com/mysource.