

WTTW is My Source for the best in arts and culture programming.

Public broadcasting has something different to offer everyone. WTTW's mission is to provide accessible programming – relevant and distinctive, enriching and engaging – for diverse audiences in Chicago and its communities, and around the country.

“For many years I dreamt of producing a program that celebrates jazz in America. That dream came true with the launch of Legends of Jazz, a series that not only showcases extraordinary jazz artists from the past, but presents the most promising artists for the future. When I imagined the perfect home for this series, I thought of public television – a place where quality programming and quality music come together.”

– Legendary jazz pianist and WTTW fan, Ramsey Lewis, Chicago

What is WTTW YOUR SOURCE for?
Let us know at wttw.com/mysource.